

HOUSING MARKET REPORTS, REAL ESTATE PORTFOLIOS AND TENDER DOCUMENTS IN THE LANGUAGE THAT YOUR CUSTOMERS AND BUSINESS PARTNERS SPEAK.

Translations for the construction and real estate industries.

Here's something for real estate funds, construction companies and architects. The real estate industry is not immune to the effects of globalization – an opportunity to get ahead of the competition with professional specialist translations and win over international investors.

New retail spaces, office complexes, warehouses and logistics centers, student accommodation and care homes require a lot of administration – and multilingual translations of sale contracts, legal documents, tenders, construction plans and due diligence reports are the ideal choice.

Digital planning tools, software solutions for supplier and customer management, and building information modeling (BIM), which will be mandatory in Germany from 2020, make processes more efficient in the long term. At the same time, the translation engineering team can apply its expertise to customer-specific software and offers tailor-made translation solutions.
